Hallowe'en Parties Planned

Rick's Notebook

Sausalito's annual Hallowe'en party promises to be bigger and better than ever.

The children (all ages) will gather at the Fire House for the big parade to Central School on Wednesday evening.

Fred Zimmerman, president of the 20-30 Club who sponsor the program each year, has announced that refreshments will be served to all who attend. Ice cream, cake and cookies will be plentiful. The Sausalito Council and the P-TA have seen to that.

Prizes will be offered for the best costumes worn by the children who enter the parade. (Residents have been requested to cooperate with the police and have their cars off Caledonia Street by 6 p.m. Wed., the 31st.

TIME

Precious time you must not waste,
Pick yourself up and make haste.
Do not watch clock hands go around.
Be sure your judgment is sound.
First lay your course carefully,
Then do things diligently.

If you try with all your might
To do things exactly right,
You will have nothing to regret,
Or any time left to fret.
Over them all you will excel
Because you've done all things well.

So do not stand there and yelp—
Self help is the best help.
Put your shoulder to the wheel,
And time do not waste or steal
Because of years there are so few,
And there is so very much to do.

—Mollie Whalen.

Well, here we are back in

New Girl Scout Leader Named For Marin City

Mrs. Doris Bradford, House 575, Marin City, has been named new leader of the Marin City Girl Scouts. She takes the place of Mrs. Lois Hart, who resigned because of illness in her family.

Mrs. Bradford announced that National Girl Scout Week will be held October 28 to November 3. It is planned to have have many interesting events for the 18 members of the Marin City group. All Girl Scouts the nation over will initiate the week by massed attendance at various churches this Sunday.

The week will end with a Play-day ecelbration at McNears Beach on Saturday, Nov. 3.

The Marin City group meets every Saturday at 1:30 p.m. in the Lounge Room of the Community Center. All girls are welcome to attend and join this active group.

Mrs. Bradford further announced that every Saturday, on KPO, from 9:15 to 9:30 a.m., a new children's hour will be heard. The program is under the sponsorship of the Bay Area P-TA's and Women's Clubs.

Public to View Naval Units On Navy Day

Yacht Review and Many Dances

October 27-28 has been set aside for a public "look-see" at the famous battleships, carriers, cruisers, destroyers and lesser ships of the mighty U.S. Navy units now in San Francisco Bay.

According to Ernest Ingold, chairman of the Navy Day arrangements, this will be a great day for Bay area residents. For the first time since 1940, civilians will be permitted aboard the Navy's mighty men of war for a complete tour.

There are four battleships, two large carriers, one cruiser, three destroyers, seven submarines and several small carriers that will throw open their hatches for the benefit of the general public on Saturday and Sunday.

All Naval installations in the Bay area will also throw aside the bars so that the general public might see what their Bonds have been doing.

The visiting hours aboard the naval units tied up at the piers at the Embarcadero will be from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day. Hours for other open house arrangements are:

Hunters Point, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.; More Island, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.; Alameda Naval Air Station, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Moffett Field, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.; Advance Base at San Bruno, 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.; Oak Knoll Hospital, 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.; Camp Parks, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Fleet Hospital at Moscow and Geneva Streets, 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.; WAVE Unit at Balboa Park, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

There will be a large Navy Day Ball at the Fairmount Hotel Saturday night preceded by a cocktail hour. The Civic Auditorium will also hold a large dance that same night.

Sunday will feature a parade of large fleet of pleasure yachts in San Francisco Bay, while at Seals Stadium, the Navy All-Stars will play the Major-Minor All-Stars.

Cafeteria Has New Management

The Liberty Cafeteria is under new management!

John and Nan Catros have come to Marin City from Sausalito and have made new innovations. Judging from last Sunday's business, it is certain that the Catros style of cooking has made a hit and will maintain capacity business for them during their 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. daily hours.

John Catros has been a chef for many years. He spent over two years as a mess sergeant for the Army. He has also acted as chef for many of the leading yacht owners of the Bay area. His first work in the Southern Marin area was as a cook aboard the ferries. Since his discharge from the Army, John has been cooking for The Lighthouse Cafe and other spots in Sausalito.

Catros met his wife Nan in Santa Monica 16 months ago and they were married one month later. Petite Nan has full charge of the fountain and adds pleasing atmosphere to that section of the cafeteria.

Postoffice For Sausalito Faces Site Problems

Whither goes the new postoffice?

That is the question of the day in the minds of the merchants and residents of Sausalito.

The government has authorized the expenditure of $135,000 for a new postoffice to replace the outmoded one presently located on Princess Street.

Site of the new construction is the present topic for heated discussions among the folks who have "decided" opinion as to where it should be located.

The clear majority, according to all surveys made (including your Citizen reporter), want the postoffice located in the vicinity of Johnson and Caledonia Sts. Many reasons have been offered up supporting their wishes. Among them are:

1. AMPLE PARKING SPACE (the present P.O. has no facilities whatsoever).
2. AVAILABLE SITES. There are many sites available in the suggested area that will entail very little razing of present building, if any at all.
3. Location near "future" center of business. Many residents and merchants can se no other way for Sausalito to expand except toward the Caledonia sector.

These are but a few of the strong arguments in favor of the Caledonia site. The Citizen would like to hear from its readers in Sausalito who might differ with the facts we have uncovered to date.

Fire Claims Presented to Supervisors

The high cost of fires was grought home at the last session of the Board of Supervisors when County Auditor Leon de-Lisle presented the Supervisors with claims for $16,807 against the county. Most of this cost is for 7000 hours of labor at 50 cents per hour.

A heated discussion took place when Lawrence Cowan, representing the A. H. Ruoff Lumber Co., presented their bill for $1725. It was vigorously discussed by Fire Chief Lloyd de la Montanya, who thought it was way out of line. The matter was set up for arbitration with the Board naming Boyd Stewart of Olema as mediator. After a short outer-room discussion the matter was settled for $1300.

Fun for All

Mammoth plans are now being worked out for a giant Hallowe'en party next Wednesday night for the children of Marin City.

The children are to gather in the parking space between the Community Building and the Maintenance Bldg. by 6 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 31. If it should rain, they are to enter the building directly instead of gathering outside.

The party is under the sponsorship of the Marin City Council, the Marin County Recreation Dept., the Housing Authority and many groups of parents who are donating their time on the Hallowe'en committee.

Children of all ages are urged to come in costume as there will be three grand prizes for the winning costumes.

ENTERTAINMENT

A wonderful program of entertainment has been promised. The children will first see two movie shorts, "Jitterbugs" and "Beanstalk Jack". The movie program will be followed by a community sing program featuring lovely "Monica" of KSFO and NBC (wife of the publisher of The Citizen). Mrs. John Duffey will assist this portion of the program in her own pleasant style.

Mr. Charles K. Ramsden will have a large group of his guitar students present to offer up several moments of music.

DANCE FEATURE

Another feature of the evening will be the staging of "The Witches' Dance", or Le Dance Macabre. This number will be staged by members of the Child Care program.

Members of the dance group include: Florence Shimmin, Eilene Walker, Todd Walters, Alix Gay Ransom, Bonnie Barry, Kay Combs, Jean Maxwell, Renee Weisler, Kay Costello, Dickie Camarcata, David Costello, Arthur Jackson, Carolyn Hanson, Larry Weisler, Judy Schwert, Dickie Teel, Danny Teel, and Deanna Delaney.

This year's party promises tc be the greatest yet seen and it is hoped that all parents of Marin City will see that their children have a chance to participate in Wednesday evening's frolics.

Members of the committee have spent long hours arranging a program and packaging candies etc. to assure all a good time.

County to Buy Surplus Equipment

The Board of Supervisors Monday elected to name Carl Clow, county road commissioner, agent for the county to purchase surplus tires and road equipment from the government.

Child Welfare Extended

Child care for Marin City has been extended until February 28, 1946, according to word received by C. L. Boyle. The following is a copy of the letter he received this week:

Mr. C. L. Boyle,
District Supt. of Schools
Sausalito.
Dear Mr. Boyle:

This is to advise you that the request submitted by you to continue the operation of Child Care in Marin City has been approved to February 28, 1945.

Statement of Policy

THE CITIZEN is now under new ownership and management!

Those who knew of it before today's issue have asked many questions. Believing that the thousands of readers of the CITIZEN will ask the same questions after this issue, we now make the following statements:

The policy of the paper will remain practically the same. It is your newspaper. A newspaper cannot be a success unless it has "reader interest" and a following. We are here to represent you, speak for you, and seek out the news of the city, county, state, nation and world for you.

Your publisher is a newspaper man of several years standing. During the long war years he served at various times as a War Bond coordinator for the Treasury Department, a war worker, a Marine overseas in the Pacific and as a War Correspondent throughout both theaters of war. He is now a resident of Marin County and plans to remain as such.

The advertising, editorial and business departments are staffed by veterans of this war.

It is not hard, therefore, to understand that the foremost aim of the Citizen under its new setup will be, "Do everything possible for the rehabilitation of the veteran and his family in Marin County."

Hand in hand with that policy goes the theme of PROGRESS for Marin County. The World Peace Center may be situated here. A new and extensive County Fairgrounds project is under way. New homes are going up like mushrooms. Yes, PROGRESS is headed Marin's way AND, there's a definite spot there for the VET and his family, ourselves and other folks who desire a fine community to live in and raise their families.

That's what we stand for. The people of Marin City have always been for such a policy . . . and the residents of Sausalito, Belvedere, Tiburon and Alto are also advocates of such a policy.

So you see, we are, as you—just folks living, working, and enjoying life in Marvelous Marin!

What's Going On In The World?

President Truman and the State Department have asked Congress to appropriate immediately $550,000,000 for UNRRA to avoid a "disastrous interruption in supplies for liberated Europe".

1. How much of the total original U.S. pledge does the $550,000,000 represent?
2. Just how is UNRRA financed?
3. How does our appropriation for UNRRA compare with our expenditures for carrying on the war?
4. Some people say that Europe has plenty of food but a breakdown in transportation has simply made distribution impossible. Is that true?

ANSWERS

1. The $550,000,000 is the unpaid amount of our total original pledge of $1,350,000,000. A request for our second contribution of the same amount will probably go to Congress soon.
2. UNRRA is financed through contributions of its 47 member nations. The original budget of $1,862,000,000 was obtained through an agreement for each uninvaded member nation to contribute 1 per cent of its 1943 national income. The United States' share of this original budget was $1,350,000,000 or 70 per cent of the total, for our national income was greater than that of all other uninvaded United Nations combined.
3. The amount now needed to carry our share of UNRRA's budget ($550,000,000 plus $1,350,000,000) is less than the war cost us in one week.
4. "World Food Situation in 1945-46" by U.S. Department of Agriculture published October 1, 1945, shows that in the overall picture of Europe (excluding the Soviet Union) food production is actually 25 per cent below pre-war average. The situation is much worse in some areas. In Greece, because of drought and war-time disruptions, the current food production in everything except fresh fruit and vegetables is approximately 50 per cent below pre-war figures. The shortages in Poland, Yugoslavia, Albania are also serious.

Sausalito Fire Dept. Hits Peak

The Sausalito Fire Department is now at full strength. It is completely equipped and ready to handle anything in the line of fires.

The present personnel list includes: five regular paid men; 15 regular volunteers, and 10 social members.

It has been announced that Chief Matts Perry has raised the department from a 6th rate unit to a number one unit with the help of "Swede" Peterson, his fellow workers, and the help of the business men of Sausalito.

At present there are 15 openings available for new volunteers. The first Monday of each month social meetings are held with drills taking place on the third Monday of each month.

John Terris, who left the department to enter the armed forces, has returned and taken up his former duties as assistant chief.

A new pool table, donated by an unnamed business man, is now in use at the station.

Ross Hits Goal In War Chest

The city of Ross today joined the list of Marin communities which have gone "over the top" in the current Victory Campaign of the Marin War Chest.

A total of $5,540 in contributions has been reported to the county War Chest office by Jack Witter, campaign chairman for Ross, according to Thomas P. Ludcke, county campaign chairman. Ross has had a quota of $5,350.

A number of other communities are believed nearing the goals set for them, so that they can be expected soon to join Almonte and Ross on the "over the top" roll of the Marin War Chest.

Ludcke expressed appreciation to Witter, his corps of workers, and to the people of Ross for their support of the Marin War Chest, which is the collecting agency for eight local Marin youth and welfare organizations and for the National War Fund.

"We do not expect that the War Chest workers of Ross will permit this accomplishment to stop their continued efforts," said Ludcke, "but that they will see how far over their quota they can go. In no case is any district to consider its quota as a limit. It is simply a gauge by which to judge achievement.

"Ross and Almonte have done a good job, and I am sure we shall soon be adding many more names to the list."

His first tour will be an all-expense tour by air of our neighbor, Mexico. It will be during the Christmas season, too. It all adds up to color, pageantry, posadas, pleasures of our southern sister-nation.

The group will leave Oakland Airport December 15th and return January 2nd. The trip will include a New Year's Eve celebration with the stars in Hollywood and the Rose bowl game at Pasadena on New Year's Day.

Teeners Topics

By Peggy Faubel.

The valiant but slightly crippled Marin City football team was defeated 13-12 by Tiburon last Sunday. The Marin City team played a great game and hope that they will be on the winning side of the ledger this coming Sunday.

Nine Marin City Teeners took a flying trip up to the top of Mt. Tamalpais last Sunday evening to help Junior Morgan celebrate his birthday. Junior was home on a short pass from Camp Beale.

Next time keep the car doors locked, Corky!

We have some new commuters on the Marin City - Pier 16 in S.F. route.

Wonder why those merchant mariners are always in such a hurry to get back to M.C. (or is the ship that always in such a hurry to get back to?).

Everybody be sure to remember the dance Nov. 2. There will be many surprises during the evening. Phil Shapiro and his fine band will make the evening's dancing tops. Let's make sure that everyone is there.

Babs Williams' song should be, "I Don't Care Who Knows It."

print once again after a two-weeks absence. We sure hope that our former readers on the NEWS will be interested in our new setup. We hope to be able to give Sausalito, Marin City and Southern Marin complete coverage. . . .

Getting settled in the new offices presented some problems but Mrs. Johnson and the other girls here pitched in and made it easy for us. We can now look out of the window and gaze over most of the area we cover. Then, too, that refrigerator in the adjoining room makes for better conditions. Food is our hobby . . . as anyone can tell when they get a good look at us . . .

Having never really investigated Marin City, we were pleasantly surprised at what we have found here so far. For other Marin County residents who are in the dark as to the tremendous extent of Marin City, we will try to keep them well informed about the second largest city (in population) in the county . . .

Friends made it quite interesting the other eve at our homestead when they held a surprise housewarming for Punkins, Pam and us. They included Sonia, Steve, Dalt, Barbara and ? . . . ViVi, Phil, Lena, Ann, Johnnie, Ruth, Wee Willie and Sue plus some of the Navy's best. Wish we could have stayed, but had to leave to attend the Legion meeting at the Sausalito Servicemen's Club and then join our bowling team. The team won all their games this week . . . by default. Outside of laying low three of the San Anselmo's best pin boys, all went well.

Sally Hettrick has added several new items to her wares. It's a swell little place to get those gifts you need from time to time. . . . The Princess Floral Market now has plenty of your favorite pet foods. . . . Roy Behrens is doing a stand-up business with his new lunchroom. . . . Might suggest the Hallowe'en Party in Mill Valley next Wednesday . . . street parade and all that sort of thing. . . . We had dinner at the Liberty Cafeteria in Marin City the other day and it was swell. John and Nan Catros are doing a grand job with their new acquisition. . . . Greg Weingeste of the Del Monte Liquor Store had to wait several hours for his lunch last Sunday due to bicycle and messenger boy troubles. . . . Larry Biancalana and George Keeney deserve a big hand for the grand job they are doing with the Sausalito War Chest Drive. It is a thankless job they have and they have dedicated their full time to help put it over. We hope that the people of Marin City and Sausalito do not fail them. . . . Rev. John Duffy announced to us that Sunday's sermon, "Christian Vocations", will be in honor of Girl Scout Week.

We attended last Monday's session of the Board of Supervistors and saw the recreation plan that was presented voted odnw. However, we feel that there is sufficient interest on the part of the Board to make sure that it won't be many days before they have a substitute plan in operation. We hope so, as we feel that Marin County should take the lead in child welfare and recreation problems. . . . Sausalito Police Chief Jim Doyle and Sgt. Roy French gathered with other police officials in Richmond last Saturday night on Bay area problems. . . .

The buses are rolling again, but there is more than just a passing interest in the revival of the plan for county controlled transportation. Supervisor Bagshaw has been given extensive power to investigate the whole matter. He may turn up with a good solution to a perplexing problem. . . . Mayor John Ehlen of Sausalito has taken steps to see that the powers-to-be get complete information and details on Strawberry Point for a possible World Peace center. . . .

This weekend may turn out to be a beauty . . . if it does, you can rest assured that Punkins and Pam will join us in covering Marin beauty spots and taking another look at Mrs. Norman Livermore's great Kittle property project for a Living Memorial.

It pays to advertise . . . my statement about my home town and Greg Weingest of the Del Monte Liquor Store worked . . . still looking for the small ice box and a vacuum. The Princess Shop has been completely renovated . . . it looks like one of New York's smartest.

Wee Willie went to L.A. last weekend and practically had to sleep in the park. He's home now and recuperating. The little one at the homestead sprouted her first tooth over the weekend. Mrs. Nelson of Nelsons plans to have a special toy section for the young kiddies before Christmas.

Bagshaw Home Demolished; Memories Remain

Eighty-three-year-old Fred Bagshaw, Sr., watched with emotion the demolition last week of the home he built fifty years ago on Blithedale, near Sycamore, in Mill Valley. Beside him stood his son, Fred W. Bagshaw, Jr., who also watched the removal of the home in which he was born forty-five years ago.

Over the memories of childhood play and family life will be built the $100,000 joint shopping center to erected by Oliver Sollom, who recently acquired the property, Hugo Lenci and Mayor Walter Johnson. Together they plan a super market, automobile show room, garage, and an electric appliance shop that will be operated by Jack Varney. The shops will surround a central court which will provide parking space for customers.

By JOHN DUFFY.

In the present controversy over peace-time military conscription, one essential point is being overlooked. It is this: no matter how prepared we are for war, no matter how well trained our young men and women are in the art of war—warfare in the near future will not be avoided unless we begin now to do a number of things which will bind us, and the nations of the world, so closely together in the bond of friendship and cooperation as to make war unnecessary.

In this connection, the closing words of Lincoln's second inaugural address are very significant for our guidance: "With malice toward none; with charity for all; with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see that right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in; to bind up the nation's wounds; to care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow, and his orphan—to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves, and with all nations."

There are a number of things we can do which will build friendships with other nations. First of all, we must recognize the desperate necessity of building such friendships if we are to avoid large scale warfare in the future. It has cost us tremendous sums of money—both in this war and in the last one—to kill people with whom we should be friendly. In addition to costing us money, it also costs us the lives of many of our finest young people (something we cannot think of in terms of dollars and cents). It is to avoid this wholesale expenditure of human life and money, that we should build world friendship immediately.

Second, we must continue, as long as it is necessary, to aid the people of Europe and Asia who need relief and rehabilitation assistance. When our nation is blessed as it is with such an abundance of foodstuffs and industrial development, we can win the friendship of other peoples if we are willing to share some of these things with them during the period of their need. This aid serves another purpose, particularly in connection with children, because it will help people to recover their strength so that they can become citizens capable of meeting the difficult tasks which lie ahead.

Third, we could start a system of lend-lease, or grants-in-aid, whereby nations which have not developed industrially can be assisted in their efforts to increase productivity and living standards. If we had assisted China in her efforts to build roads and industries after World War I, there is a strong possibility that she would have been able to repel the attacks made on her by Japan.

Fourth, and by no means the least, we can arrange for an exchange of students between the United States and the other nations of the world every year. No better investment could be made in the building of international friendship than this. By sending 1000 high school and college students into the other nations of the world each year—for a period of one year—to study and live with the people, we can build up a knowledge of the problems and the civilization of other peoples. As Woodrow Wilson once pointed out, it is only by knowing other people that we can understand them. How much better, and less costly, it would be to send some of our young people abroad as ambassadors of friendship and goodwill than to send them, as we have had to do, to destroy and kill.

Because the United States is the most powerful nation in the world, it has a great responsibility for leading the nations of the world in the ways of peace and friendship. If we insist on crawling within our shell, and neglect this responsibility, we can only expect another war in a short time. By our own actions, we will choose war or peace. The four ways listed above are only a few of the many methods which will help us to follow the road to peace.

In Memoriam

Dedication of Glass Windows Honors Lieutenant Constable

The Right Reverend Karl Morgan Block, DD, will unveil and dedicate the three stained glass windows over the main altar at Christ Episcopal Church in Sausalito next Sunday, October 28th, at the 11 a. m. service. The center window is erected in memory of Lieutenant Godfrey (Peter) Constable who was killed in action against the enemy on December 5, 1944, and who is buried on Leyte.

The window portrays in stained glass, Christ, the King, while the background is designed particularly as a memorial. The wide, decorated border is relieved with shields—the one at the apex of the window containing the flag of the church, and those at the springing line contain the Eagle, emblematic of the United States, and the lion rampant of England.

The border is also decorated with medallions containing anchors and, alternately, the sloop Albatross, which Peter sailed around the Bay for many years.

Near the bottom of the window are two more shields with the Stars and Stripes and the Union Jack. These decorations represent the two democratic nations for which Lieutenant Constable both fought and died. Although he spent nearly all of his life in the United States, he was born in England.

The windows on each side are the gift of Frank Lee and the background is designed in harmony with the center window. These windows represent some of the best work of Harold Cummings, a resident of Belvedere, and president of the Stained Glass Association of America.

Airport Plan For Marin

A petition to re-zone a section of Marin County property on Highway 101, for establishment of a private airport, will soon be filed with the Planning Commission, according to Frank Rusalem, San Francisco. He has announced his intention to install there a complete aviation ground with hangars, restaurant, auto court, cocktail lounge, private planes, and sightseeing tours.

Working with him is Lieutenant Langhorne Washburn, four and a half years as a patrol bomber pilot with the Navy, who is expecting his discharge soon.

The land where the airport is proposed, is north of First Street running to Corte Madera on the west side of the highway —land previously designated for the proposed county fairgrounds.

As only 300 feet of the property is zoned for light industry, promoters of the airport are going to ask the commission to re-zone the remaining portion of 108 acres from agricultural area into industrial land.

Class Offered on 'Rules of Order' By Marin J.C.

Coming as a late addition to the current program of classes for adults being offered at Marin Junior College, a class is being organized for the study of parliamentary procedure to be held on Monday nights from 8 to 10 o'clock. Dewart Lewis is in charge of the course, which will consist of only six Monday-night meetings, the first being on October 22.

Dr. Wallace W. Hall, college vice-president, in adding this to the other extension offerings, says he feels that such a course will prove valuable to a large number of members of civic and social organizations in which "rules of order" must be understood by all who take part in business meetings of the groups.

The Marin War Chest needs your generous donation — now!

Board to Promote Fair Ground on Sacramento Trip

The Board of Supervisors will go to Sacramento on Friday, November 2, to confer with the Director of Finance and other State officials regarding State aid for the proposed Marin County Fair project.

Expected to accompany board members are Senator Thomas Keating, Assemblyman Richard McCollister, County Auditor Leon deLisle and Boyd Stewart and Thomas Peryman of the committee sponsoring a Marin County Fair Grounds.

Bay Channel Reconsidered

A formal hearing to consider maintenance of the Richardson Bay shipping channel by the federal government will be held in Sausalito on Wednesday, November 7, according to Kenneth Moore, district engineer. All interested are invited to attend at 1 p.m. in the Sausalito city hall council chambers.

The establishment of Marinship caused the dredging of the channel by the Maritime Commission and the Army is now being importuned to keep it open.

Dagwood and Arthur Lake

- - - - - - What Makes Him Tick?

Dagwood Bumstead has become synonymous with a zaney brand of humor. In pictures and over the air, he portrays an overly-ambitious young executive of the J. C. Dithers Co., whose sincerity of purpose, but lack of foresight, have him in a chronic state of bewilderment.

He is usually extricated by Blondie, his guardian angel, and the benevolent hand of Providence. There in essence you have the movie and radio fans' version of Dagwood Bumstead. There, too, you have the reason for his tremendous popularity.

To other humans who struggle along for an existence there is a distinctive appeal directed toward any person in difficulties. They sympathize and understand. A character such as Dagwood brings home to them rather forcibly their own frailties and difficulties they face along the trail of life. So they perforce are drawn toward him and his troubles. In short, he is a very human fellow and as such is relatively akin to them.

Removed from the glare of kleig lights, grease paint and microphones, Arthur Lake, Dagwood's other self, might be any wholesome young breadwinner. To all the lovable characteristics in the role of Dagwood one has to only add the whimsicality of expression plus a dash of frank boyishness to arrive at Arthur Lake in everyday life.

Like all American boys, he has wanted to be, in turn, a policeman, fireman, soldier of the Foreign Legion, aviator and millionaire. He has had his full quota of measles, mumps, and whooping cough. And he is not ashamed of having run from the school-yard bully. Through all this he has retained a belief in justice of right over wrong and the infallibility of success through application. He has grown to manhood without losing the fundamentals of youth. And therein, we would say, lies the secret of his charm, something he has in notable quantity.

No tribute could please him more than a remark recently made by Bill Giaver, famous eastern yachtsman and charactor actor who sails aboard Arthur's sloop, the "Sea Hawk". Bill said. "He's a good shipmate and a handy guy to have aboard a boat in a squall."

That's Arthur Lake, or, if you prefer, Dagwood Bumstead as I know him. —Roscoe.

A WOMAN Looks at the NEWS

Need for Woman's Club in This City

By Pauline Lindsay.

In the very beginning of Marin City, a number of women residents organized a Woman's Club. It was recently brought to an end after a very happy three years of operation due to the fact that so many of the members moved away. Are there any of you new residents who would like to form a club of your own?

To begin with, the women living in Marin City are apt to find it rather lonesome unless they have a way of getting in contact with their neighbors, and particularly finding those who have similar interests. There is a sense of impermanency for all of us living here as the residents come from all over the country—all over the world, in fact! Therefore, in order to make life a little more interesting and enjoyable while this period of separation from established homes must continue, it is possible for the women themselvets, to arrange a program that will be stimulating and make this long period of waiting approximate some of the more normal aspects of living.

The club program can be partly social, arranging for card parties and speakers. It can also function as a direct aid to the recreational programs which keep our teen-age youngsters off the streets. And, lastly, the women's club can, as problems of living here come up, use their power as a group, to bring matters to the attention of the Marin City Council.

Those interested in forming such a group may contact Project Services in House 401 for information as to space available.

Artists Speak At Marin Club

Artists Loyola Fourtane, Gertrude Hartman and Francina Terebona were the program attraction at the last meeting of the Sausalito Woman's Club when they spoke on their individual artistic accomplishments ranging through jewelry, ceramics, painting and sculpturing. Members of the club served as models for several of the jewelry displays.

The meeting was preceded by a dessert luncheon at the clubhouse, where the chairman was Mrs. Gordon Smith, assisted by Mesdames C. M. Gunn, R. Gunn, V. Grube, T. Hale, G. H. Hamilton, E. Honigbaum, J. Harlan, and P. Harmon.

The artists were introduced by Mrs. Craig Wilder, program chairman.

Constance Puharich has just completed her term as Royal Princess and will receive her Past Royal Princess certificate and pin. The girls to be installed are: Royal Princess, Martha Pierce; Charity, Shirley Smith; Friendship, Joyce Watson; Royal Exchequer, Lois Hadley; Royal Recorder, Doris Schrage; Royal Prelate, Mary Reynolds; Royal Guide, Pat Charles; Mystic-One, Patsy McGowan; Royal Warder, Virginia Bettencourt; Royal Sentinel, Joan Vince and Royal Adviser, Mrs. Esther M. Dearth.

Following the installation there will be dancing and refreshments.

Marin Yacht Club In Navy Week

The Marin Yacht Club, under the leadership of Commodore Thomas P. Boyd, will participate with bay area yachtsmen in the peace time parade to welcome men of the Navy on Sunday afternoon, October 28.

Beginning promptly at 12 noon, all yachts, power and sail, will assemble between the Golden Gate Bridge and Fort Point Life Saving Station, about one quarter mile off the San Francisco shore.

The parade will be headed by one of the Pilot schooners or other distinctive ship. Skippers will fall in behind, maintaining a distance of about 100 yards between vessels until the parade disbands. The course will veer pass the Marina and San Francisco waterfront, to buoy off Islais Creek, thence to the north end of Treasure Island.

Lieut. Comdr. Carl W. Spring, who has been stationed in this area for some time, recently was released to inactive duty at the San Francisco Separation Center. He and his wife are residents of Sausalito.

A combination "welcome home" for a returning soldier by the Craig Wilders and a housewarming by Mrs. Mary McClellan were last week-end festivities in Sausalito. Cannon is a veteran of the Philippine Liberation campaign.

Marin County friends of the two hostesses were guests at the celebrations.

Belvedere Will Open Center Saturday

Enthusiasm is on the increase as the evening for official opening of the Belvedere Community Center approaches. Festivities will begin at 6 o'clock next Saturday evening, October 27, with several of Belvedere's most skilled chefs barbecuing the traditional bird of feast in an outside pit built by Jack Heidelberg. As food chairman, John L. Rumsey has arranged for a cuisine of salads, turkey and dressing, apple pie a la mode and coffee.

Mrs. George Stephens, program chairman, assisted by Mrs. Hal Kipp, co-chairman, has arranged the program, with Howard Ellis acting as master of ceremonies.

Mrs. Willard Saville and Ralph Noah have been in charge of ticket sales, assisted by eight Belvedere girls.

Belvedere fathers have given generously of their time for the ultimate success of the Center, and every Sunday has found crews of volunteer workers making wooden furniture, wiring, installing a heating system and adding the finishing touches to the premises.

Farewell Party For Millers

Mrs. J. H. Kahrt entertained friends with a personal shower in honor of Mrs. G. Miller, former chairman of the Cookie Brigade and first vice-president of the former Marin City Women's Club.

A thoroughly enjoyable evening was had by all. Mrs. Fred Phillips won the honors playing Baccrac. Just prior to the serving of refreshments, Mrs. Kahrt was pleasantly surprised with many lovely gifts presented to her.

Autumn color scheme predominated in the decorations. There were yellow tapered candles, tall flowers and bowls of fruits. Following the party Mr. and Mrs. Miller left for their now home in Hutchison, Kansas.

Guests included, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Phillips, Ed Mathews, W. L. Parker, E. J. Andring, Harvey McGuire, Clara Bishop, Agnes Sampson and Mr. and Mrs. George Galbraith.

Aviation Talk at Exchange Club

Information on aviation for future private plane owners was given to members at last night's meeting of the Exchange Club by Miss Taylor, of the Civil Aeronautics Patrol. Included in her talk were pointers on small planes and on pilots' licenses.

On request from the San Rafael police department, the Exchange Club furnished the following members for judges in the city's Hallowe'en parade: Isadore Forman, Mark Fenton, Haskell Shedd, James Moore, and George Frehe.

Illegal Rentals Hit Again

The OPA issued another warning today to the black market landlords in the Bay area who practice "renting" apartments with the provision that the furniture must be purchased at the same time.

This is an illegal practice and victims should notify the OPA at once.

The Rent Regulation for Housing provides: "No person shall require a tenant or prospective tenant to purchase or agree to purchase furniture or any other property as a condition of renting housing accommodations unless prior written consent of the Administrator is obtained."

Is Growing Up

The H. C. Little Burner Co. of San Rafael, presently housed in the former municipal recreation center, is preparing to branch out into larger quarters. The company is buying four acres of property near San Rafael's eastern city limits where it plans to construct a $120,000 plant.

Polio Conference

A director of technical information for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is conducting a series of conferences with faculty and students in physical therapy schools of the University of California Hospital and Stanford University.

Strikes or No Strikes . . . We Do Agree 100 per cent on the National War Fund!

We're giving again . . . and we're giving plenty!

LABOR and management join hands to back the Community War Fund campaign. Chambers of Commerce and manufacturers' associations are joined with all unions, the C.I.O., A.F.L., Railroad Brotherhoods, and other unions in urging members to give — and give generously to their local War Fund.

Nowhere else can your dollars do as much good . . . help as many deserving people. You help all our men and women in the armed forces through the U.S.O. . . . our Merchant Marine through the United Seamen's Service. You provide maternity care for wives of servicemen, day care for war workers' children, public health activities, family and child welfare work. And you help our needy allies in foreign lands.

That's why we're backing this drive 100% . . . why we are urging our folks to give all they can spare and more — NOW!
